Alexi Lamm

City of Moab
Director of Sustainability

Biography

Alexi Lamm is the Director of Sustainability for the City of Moab. Since taking the position in 2022, she has finalized the city's sustainability plan and submitted its application to become a Dark Sky Community, a culmination of efforts dating back to 2016. Prior to her work in Moab, she was the first sustainability program manager for Utah State University where she also received her PhD. Growing up on the rice-growing side of Arkansas, she is a returned Peace Corps volunteer and alumna of Arkansas State and Indiana Universities.
