

NEW UTAH STATE UNIVERSITY MILLARD COUNTY EXTENSION STAFF

“Though nearly 100 years old, [the Cooperative] Extension [System] is as vital as ever, and perhaps even more so, due to the increased diversity and complexity of the issues people encounter today. The Cooperative Extension System continues its longstanding tradition of extending the university to the people to improve the quality of life for individuals, families, and communities. Extension is unique in structure and function. As a partnership of federal, state, and local governments, the Extension System--with its network of county offices and state universities, is in a position to deliver educational programs at the grassroots level throughout the nation. . . The County Extension Office is truly the front door to America's land-grant universities. This integration of teaching, research, and public service enables the Cooperative Extension System to respond to critical and emerging issues with research-based, unbiased information.”

Millard County Extension staff would like to extend a gracious Thank You to Deaun Adams-Bean who recently retired as the USU Extension Office Manager for all her years of dedicated service. New to the Millard County USU Extension staff are Teresa Alldredge and Jolene Johnson. Teresa Alldredge replaces Deaun Adams-Bean as the new USU Extension Office Manager. Teresa has lived in Millard County for 30 year and has raised five children. She loves playing with her grandchildren, reading, crocheting, camping, and riding ATVs. Jolene Johnson has been hired as the new Millard County Family and Consumer Sciences/4-H Agent in the USU Extension Office. The FCS Agent functions as an educator, to provide leadership for planning, organizing, implementing, and evaluating adult Family and Consumer Sciences programs and 4-H youth development programs. Additional responsibilities include recruiting, training, and supervising volunteer leaders. Jolene is from Buhl, a small town in south central Idaho. Her educational emphasis is in Marriage, Family and Human Development. She enjoys reading, learning, cultural events, and outdoor recreational activities. The Millard County Extension staff extends a warm welcome to Teresa Alldredge and Jolene Johnson.
