

Telling Stories to Reduce Stigma: Comics and Harm Reduction

These graphic novels are true stories of Utahan's experiences with substance use disorder. They are stories of hope and recovery. We would like you to join us in a small book group discussion.

You will be mailed two titles, each approximately 30 pages, comic book format. I will email you the day they ship, and schedule a Zoom meeting 5 business days later. During the Zoom call we will discuss the books and take feedback.
