

Native plants for the Intermountain West

03/11/2021

Native Plants for the Intermountain West

NEW RESOURCE! Native Plants for the Intermountain West.

About WERA

WERA-1013 is an officially recognized Western Education/ Extension and Research Activity designed to enhance the introduction and evaluation of native plants and to provide education concerning their use and propagation. The people involved make up a working group of western US university and nursery professionals who wish to advance the use of native plants in landscaping and gardening.

This site was originally hosted by University of Wyoming Extension