CWEL’s Kelly Kopp took part in a question-and-answer session held as part of USU Research Landscapes on March 2, 2021.

The presentation, Xero to Hero: Resource-positive landscapes that give more than they take, introduced the potential your ornamental landscape has to provide resources and benefits through a discussion that highlights a broader thinking about the value of grass and plants.