The Jr. Livestock Programs Strengthen Communities

Every year Davis County youth purchase and raise 4-H and FFA livestock projects to compete at the Davis County Fair. In addition to the expense of purchasing their animal, feed, and supplies, these livestock projects require hours of hard work by ensuring proper feeding, training, and preparing their animals for showing at the Fair. Youth learn essential life skills such as communication, cooperation, responsibility, service, leadership, along with the humane treatment of animals. They also learn that these animals are being produced as food that will end up on a consumer's plate one day. 4-H and FFA livestock projects provide opportunities for young people to develop solid values that will serve their community. The Junior Livestock sale provides the community an opportunity to invest in our youth and their future. Youth use the proceeds from the sale of their livestock projects to fund college educations, humanitarian service missions, or simply to get a start in life after high school. A program has also been started in Davis County where businesses can purchase animals at the sale from the youth and in turn donate the meat to needy families in Davis County. This is a chance to not only help local youth but low-income families in the community as well. As a buyer, your participation in the Junior Livestock Sale recognizes youth for the expense, time, and hard work that has gone into raising an animal for market.

4-H JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SALE

SAT, AUGUST 21, 2021
USU Botanical Center, 11:00a.m.

Building character in today's youth...

How You Benefit From Your Purchase

Businesses: can use the meat purchase for an employee barbeque, good will gifts, or re-sale to employees at market price.

Individuals: obtain top quality, beef, pork, lamb, and goat (you won't find meat of this high quality in any store). Your friends, family, and neighbors can share a purchase if you wish. For example 4 families each split the purchase of a beef animal and each family gets a quarter of beef.

Organizations: may auction off wrapped meat as a fund raiser or use the purchase for a club barbeque.

Approximate Weight The Buyer Receives Before Packaging:

Beef – 1,000 lb. live steer will yield an average 600 lb. carcass. Swine – 230 lb. live market hog will yield an average 166 lb. carcass. Sheep – 120 lb. live market lamb will yield an average 64 lb. carcass. Goat – 100 lb. live market goat will yield an average 60 lb. carcass.

Two Ways To Participate

1. Attend the sale in person. The excitement of the event and the drama of the auctioneer's voice create an unforgettable scene. There are many people available at the sale to assist you if this is your first auction event.
2. If you are unable to attend the sale, but wish to participate, you can do so by proxy. Just fill out the purchase/boost agreement form attached to this brochure or contact the Extension 4-H Coordinator at 435-919-1329 for more information.

How Is A Purchase Made?

- Register with the sales table to get your buyer number starting at 10:00 am the day of the sale.
- At the sale: when you wish to place a bid on the animal in the ring, raise your hand until the auctioneer or ring man acknowledges your bid.
- The buyer is the highest bidder. Animals are sold by the head not by the pound.
- Upon being recognized as the buyer the auctioneer will ask your name or business group which you represent. The sale secretary will record this information. You will also be asked where you want the animal to be sent for processing (a list of local meat packers will be available at the sale if you don't already have one).
- After the sale visit the sales table to verify the sale and pay the bill.

Ways To Buy

Home Use- You can purchase the entire animal for home use. You pay the total sale price bid at the time of the sale. You will need to designate at the time of the sale whether or not you wish to have your animal processed. Simply indicate on your slip who you want to do the processing. Bid price does not include processing fees.

Buy Back (flooring the animal)- Buyers not wanting to keep their purchased animal pay only the difference between the final bid price and resale value listed in the program based on the floor prices set by livestock markets. The floor buyer (packer) will take the animal and the successful bidder pays only the support amount. The floor price will be set prior to the sale and will be published in the sale program. For example, suppose you bid $370 for a 100 lb. lamb. The floor price is 70 cents per pound, the buy back price is then $70. Your cost=$300 which is the amount you planned on spending anyway.

Split Buying- Two or more individuals, families, businesses, or organizations may wish to split the cost of an animal. This reduces the cost to any one person or group and reduces the amount of meat each will receive. Notify the auctioneer of the combination of bidders at the time of purchase or at registration.

Buyers' Pool- Individuals and/or businesses commit a dollar amount to the pool. The buyers' pool will then bid on and purchase animals, leveraging the available money to maximize the benefit to participating youth.

For Donation- Donate the meat from your purchase to your choice of non-profit organizations or Davis County Jr. Livestock clubs take donated meat to needy families in Davis and Salt Lake families at a service project held in the fall. In 2015 the Farmington 4-H club distributed over 180,000 lbs. of donated meat to the Utah Food Bank for low-income families. This option is a win-win situation. You support local youth financially by purchasing their animal plus by donating the meat you help needy families in the community.
