

Davis County 4H Utah Breeder's Guide

So you want to show this year and looking for a project. Most kids like to support local breeders and visit them to pick out there project, however there are several online auction platforms that could help you in your search such as: Showpig.com, Showcattleconnection.com, Showgoats.com, SConlinesales.com, and Wlivestock.com to name a few. Some local breeders may have online sales on some of these sites but this will give you a national search for project. Prices do not include shipping and you may have to pay extra to have a project brought into the state. Health certificates are required by law if you are transporting livestock across state lines.

Don't want to travel for deal with transportation then here is more information. This list is not all inclusive but we have put together a list of breeders in Utah that breed top quality show animal projects for Davis County youth. These are local breeders that would require minimal travel to pick out a project.
