

Utah 4-H is part of Utah State University

- Utah 4-H (4-H) is part of Utah State University (USU)
- Utah State University is a nonprofit education and 501(c)(3) organization
- Utah 4-H falls under USU's nonprofit 501(c)(3) umbrella
- 4-H, as part of USU is covered by USU's liability insurance
- 4-H, as part of USU is included in USU's IRS reporting
- 4-H, as part of USU is covered by USU's volunteer/employee benefits
- 4-H sponsored activities are considered to be USU activities
- 4-H members, volunteers, clubs or organizations are registered through 4-H/USU
- 4-H clubs or groups can open 4-H/USU bank accounts in their local communities
- 4-H bank accounts are part of USU's financial portfolio
- 4-H works with organizations that are not 4-H
- Organizations that are not 4-H, often give or raise money for 4-H
- Organizations with their own nonprofit 501(c)(3), are not part of 4-H/USU
- Organizations that are not 4-H sometimes hold events which benefit 4-H
- 4-H/USU is covered under the State of Utah Risk Management for liability
- Individuals or groups which are 4-H are covered under USU's liability umbrella
- Equipment, materials or other real property given to 4-H becomes property of 4-H/USU
- Funds raised using the 4-H name or emblem belongs to 4-H/USU
- Funds which belong to 4-H should be deposited in a 4-H/USU account
- Funds raised by 4-H clubs should be deposited in a 4-H/USU account
- Funds raised by organizations for 4-H should be deposited in a 4-H/USU account
- All funds belonging to 4-H should be deposited into a 4-H/USU account
- USU handles the 4-H/USU account reporting for the IRS
- Organizations that are not 4-H do not enjoy the benefits of being under USU's umbrella
- 4-H affiliate organizations must have a signed MOU with 4-H in order to legally use the 4-H Name and Emblem