Dear member of Utah State University Extension:

The richness and blending of many cultures makes Utah a great state in which to live. Utah State University Extension is committed to the delivery of educational programs to the citizens of the state. I affirm my support for USU Extension's outreach to all persons regardless of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran's status, and sexual orientation. Our charge is to provide reasonable accommodation to stakeholders who have disabilities and/or limited English proficiency. Extension programs must be designed to include minority and under-served groups within assigned service areas.

Each county has established contact goals for reaching out to those we serve. I encourage you to review both personal and county contact goals and report the contacts you have made with these valued Extension customers. These end-of-the-year contact reports will be used to compile data on who we are serving and the numbers participating in Extension programs, which we will share with state legislators as a demonstration of the impact of USU Extension in the state.

I appreciate your dedication in designing, planning and orchestrating programs that meet the needs of all Utahans. Thank you for your efforts.

Sincerely,

Noelle Cockett
Vice President for Extension and Agriculture
Cooperative Extension Director
