Buy Produce for your Neighbor Program

During the 2018 Hunger Solution Institute breakout session, Hiram Wigant, an educator with Create Better Health Utah, heard descriptions of different organizations, their goals, what they do, and what they wanted. But not how to help connect the organizations' goals and programs to jointly fight hunger. This sparked the idea to unify the Farmers Market, the Food Pantry, and the SNAP-Ed program to create the Buy Produce for Your Neighbor Program. Read about Hiram's initiative and the success here.
