Bachman: A Leader Committed to Feeding Hungry Students and Reducing Waste

Kara began working with the student sustainability office as the Food Intern in December 2017. While there she helped run the Food Recovery Network, the USU on-campus farmers market, and co-created the Campus Kitchen at USU. After volunteering with the Food Preservation and Hunger Relief program and participating in an Alternative Spring Break picking fruit with Ishkashitaa, the idea of the USU Gleaning Team was born. Working along side Amria Farnsworth, they started a very successful program gleaning 15,336 pounds in their first year.
