Frequently Asked Questions:

Q: Can I support an individual without being to the sale in person?

A: Yes! If you are unable to attend but wish to participate, you can do so by proxy. Just contact the exhibitor or a member of the livestock committee.

Q: Can I be invoiced for my purchases and donations?

A: Yes! Supply the SCJLA Treasurer with your complete contact information and she will send you an invoice. Please note that all money is due within 30 days of the date of the junior livestock sale.

Q: Can I split the cost of an animal with someone else?

A: Yes! Just register both names on the buyers registration card and provide contact information for both individuals so that the packing company contacts the correct people.

Q: Can I choose what packing company processes the animal I buy?

Supporting an Individual

Buy A Fair Animal-

Junior Livestock Animals will be for sale at a public auction at 10:00 am the last Saturday of the fair. A buyers breakfast begins at 8:00 am for buyers to preview the sale sheet and register for the auction. Bids are based on dollars per head. The buyer is the highest bidder.

Helpful Auction Terms

- Floor Price - This is the current market value of the animal. The Junior Livestock Committee contracts with market livestock buyers to pay this price for animals that do not get sold for home use. This is the base price of the animal.
- Boost Money - This is the amount of money above market price that an exhibitor receives for their animal.
- Sale Price - This is the final price the animal is sold for at auction. It is the combination of the floor price and boost money.
- Buy An Animal - The highest bidder pays the entire sale price of the animal PLUS the cut and wrap.
- Boost An Animal - The highest bidder is responsible for any money spent beyond the floor price and does not get the animal.
Example: $450 (sale price) - $126 (floor price) = $324 (boost)

Boost A Fair Animal-

Anyone can add to money to one or more exhibitors. Simply pickup a boost form from the show office and list who you would like to boost and how much you would like to donate to them.
