

Spring 2019

05/05/2019

Spring 2019

As leaves and flowers open to the sun, this spring newsletter highlights work in regeneration through permaculture design occurring across the West. In addition to blog highlights from interviews with permaculture leaders in the West, two new members have joined our USU Permaculture Initiative team and we feature them here. We hope these stories help you positively reshape your relationship with your environment and community.

View Newsletters