Summer 2021 Newsletter

This summer, a haze of smoke covers the West like a blanket, burning our lungs and reminding us of the consequences of a changed climate. Our USU Extension Sustainability newsletter features our Extension climate change efforts, including a spring Climate Change in Extension action forum, national action items for advancing climate change programming in Extension, the newly released Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change report, and the solutions-based efforts we are engaged in with the USU Permaculture Initiative.
