

Dear Livestock Show Exhibitor's:

I am excited to welcome participants and their families to the 72nd Tooele County Junior Livestock Show and Sale! As a committee we have spent the past year working hard to make this year's show a positive experience for all participants. As always, we look forward to seeing old friends and meeting new acquaintances.

The Livestock Show Committee is thrilled that you have decided to show your 4-H and FFA projects at this year's show, and hope you find satisfaction from the hard work you are putting into your animals.

2020 has brought unique challenges. Most of us have never experienced a worldwide pandemic. It is definitely unfamiliar and uncomfortable territory. We as a committee feel confident, we will have navigated through the confusion, and state/county requirements by show time; and we will be able to provide a show experience similar to what you have expected in year's past. We will make the necessary adjustments as guidelines require. We will strive to keep your health and safety, as well as that of your animal's our highest priority. We realize that even with the best plans some decisions are out of our control. If it becomes necessary to make adjustments to the show or cancel, we will let you know as quickly as possible. We are working closely with the County Commissioners and Health Department on a weekly basis.

In these challenging times we feel it is important to remind you that the success of the sale at the Tooele County Livestock Show will be determined by your willingness and ability to bring your own financial support with you. Please be mindful that the stock show committee works year-round to promote and encourage financial support of the show, but you as an individual participant will have more impact on a buyer than we will as an adult committee member. Please do your part to make this show a success by bringing competitive livestock and your own supporters.

We as a board are excited to see each of you again this year August 5th-8th, at the show and wish each exhibitor good luck!

Sincerely,

Robert Pitt, President
