Contest Rules

1. The subject matter must pertain to the horse industry. Presentation not appropriately related to the horse industry can be disqualified at the discretion of the judges.

A demonstration is defined as a presentation of a step by step procedure with an end product or result. An illustrated talk is defined as a presentation of an idea or topic that uses visual aids to convey the message.

Both presentation forms are acceptable and will be evaluated equally, although the delivery methods are different as defined above. Both should utilize visual aids to help convey the major points of the presentation and more than one type of visual aid is preferable. Visual aids may include, but are not limited to: handouts, poster, props, videos, slides, and computer generated media. No live animals may be used.
3. Contestants may use notes. However, excessive use of notes may be counted against the contestant. This will be at the discretion of the judge(s).
4. A public address system will NOT be used during the contest.

8. Participants must supply their own props. Two tables and chairs will be provided for the presenter's use.
 9. Contestants should cite their major reference materials at the end of the presentation. This time will not be counted in the allotted time.
 10. Judges will ask their questions first, and then audience members may be given the opportunity to ask additional questions. Judge's will not take the questions and answers during the audience time into consideration. Question time will not be counted in the allotted time. Contestants should repeat the question, and then answer it.

The penalty for violating this rule is disqualification.
 13. Contestant order will be determined by a random drawing and announced at the coach's meeting.
 14. Improper attire will be a violation and appropriate points deducted on the score card. Improper attire will be determined at the discretion of the judges. Business attire or dress appropriate to the speech is acceptable.
