My Club, My Community,
My Country, and My World.

TYPICAL CLUB OFFICER DUTIES

President: Calls meeting to order, presides during meeting.

Vice President: Introduces guests, announces the program for the club meeting, and presides in the president's absence.

Secretary: Leads roll call and records attendance at each meeting, Reads and records the minutes of each meeting.

Treasurer: Maintains records of the club's income and expenses. Announces the treasury balance and any transactions since the last club business meeting.

Reporter: Promotes the club's activities. Optional roles may include: preparing and distributing a club newsletter, maintaining a club scrapbook, and/or serving as the club photographer.

Song Leader: Leads 4-H songs during the club meeting.

Recreation Leader: Leads games during the social part of the club meeting.

The 4-H Club Leader works with club officers to ensure they "lead" the business meeting. If the president is young, the leader may need to "lead" the discussion about business items and then allow the president to lead the voting regarding a specific issue.

The important thing is to give the youth officers as much responsibility as is developmentally appropriate in leading their own club.

BUSINESS MEETING PROCEDURE

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

HOW TO MAKE A MOTION (A motion is a formal proposal by a member to do something or have something considered.)

1. Member raises hand. President will recognize person by calling their name. This indicates that the person recognized has the privilege of speaking ("has the floor") and must not be interrupted.
2. Member then stands and states the motion as follows: "I move that_____." Member states the proposal (idea) they would like to be considered.
3. President says, "Is there a second to this motion?" A second to the motion means that you agree that the proposal (idea) is worth considering as a club.
4. Any member, except the member making the original motion, raises their hand, stands when recognized by the president, and says, "I second that motion,"
5. After the motion has been seconded, the president re-states the motion saying, "The motion has been made and properly seconded that we_____. Is there any discussion?"
6. Any member that wants to share their views regarding the motion raises their hand and when recognized by the president stands and addresses the club. Only one person has the floor at a time.
7. After a reasonable time for discussion, the president will say, "If there is no further discussion, we will now vote. All in favor of the motion, raise your hand (secretary counts votes). All opposed to the motion, raise your hand (secretary counts votes)"
8. President announces the results of the vote, "The motion is carried (accepted)" or "The motion is lost (fails)." Votes can also be taken orally (aye/nay) or by ballot. On issues where the vote is likely to be close, it may be better to ask members to vote by raising their hand.

IMPORTANT: There can only be one motion on the floor at a time. Once a motion has been made and seconded, it must be voted on, amended, or withdrawn by the person who made the motion originally.
